

Memdeklaro

Self-declaration of identity

The humanitarian alternative to government ID

<https://github.com/memdeklaro>

What is Memdeklaro?

- Self-declaration of identity
- Humanitarian self-sovereign alternative to government ID
- Define your own name, culture and personal ties without requiring permission from third parties such as birth countries, birth cultures or birth parents
- You are the authority over your own life

What is Memdeklaro?

- Memdeklaro is a self-printed paper business card or plastic card
- It contains: Self-chosen first name, self-chosen surname, birth date, photo, signature
- It does not contain: Birth place, citizenship or stateless status, parents' names (Protects dissidents, conscientious objectors, adult victims of child abuse and victims of cult abuse)

Why Memdeklaro?

- More daily life necessities are strictly requiring government ID every year, from housing, jobs and healthcare to sim cards, mail, libraries and volunteer work
- However: Millions of people are shut out of the government ID system, usually due to circumstances of birth rather than their own actions as an adult
- Nation-states often refuse to print birth certificates, national ID cards and passports, with no appeals or last resorts
- United Nations no longer issues Nansen passports, Red Cross rarely issues Emergency Travel Documents, stateless passports exist by law but are rarely issued
- There is no way to independently "earn" a legal identity as an adult
- Vicious circle of "it's illegal to not have ID, but no jurisdiction will print ID for you"

How to use Memdeklaro?

- Memdeklaro is a self declaration, which means it is not issued by a centralized authority, but rather printed by the holder themselves
- Privacy-friendly generator: <https://memdeklaro.surge.sh>
- Template: <https://github.com/memdeklaro> (for Photoshop, GIMP)
- Use digitally, print out as a business card, or order a plastic card from a printing service

Memdeklaro - Front template

	Memdeklaro de identeco Esperantujo
	Nomo
	Antaŭnomo
	Naskiĝdato
	Eldondato		Limdato
	Subskribo		Numero

Memdeklaro - Back template

Notoj

Eldonisto

Unu mondo, unu homaro

Disclaimer

- ID requirements are not necessary and do more harm than good
- Examples of successful ID-less transactions:
 - Paying cash for a loaf of bread or a bus ticket
 - Ticket to visit a concert, membership card to visit a gym
 - Passwords and PINs (e.g. picking up mail using a PIN sent by SMS)
 - Cash deposit for an apartment rental
 - Portfolio, references or a trial period for a job application
 - Physical keys and codes (such as room keys or a safe code)
 - Cryptographic key pairs (e.g. PGP, Monero)

Further reading

- Further reading about the dangers of the state monopoly on identity:
- Passports Were a “Temporary” War Measure - Speranta Dumitru
- During World War II, we did have something to hide - Hans de Zwart
- The Little-Known Passport That Protected 450,000 Refugees - Cara Giaimo
- With each person left living on the streets, we are losing as a society - Petr Baroch
- Exclusion and identity: life without ID - Privacy International
- Establishing identity is a vital, risky and changing business - The Economist

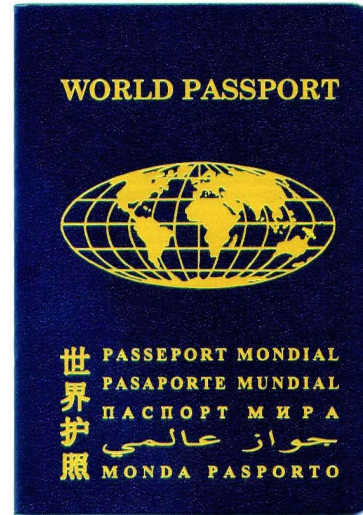

Further reading

- Alternative non-government IDs

- World Passport

- Digitalcourage

- Like Memdeklaro, they do not require an existing passport or birth certificate

Memdeklaro

Self declaration of identity

<https://memdeklaro.github.io/>

The humanitarian alternative to government ID